The management is responsible for the preparation and presentation of these condensed interim consolidated financial statements in accordance with IAS 34 – Condensed interim Financial Reporting. Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on these consolidated condensed interim consolidated financial statements based on our review.

Scope of review:

We conducted our review in accordance with International Standard on Review 2410 "Review of Condensed Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity". A review of the condensed interim financial information consists of making inquiries primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with international Standards on Auditing. Consequently, it does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Conclusion:

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying condensed interim financial statements are not prepared, in all material respects in accordance with IAS 34.

Emphasis of matters

Without qualified, as stated in Note No. (7) about the attached consolidated condensed interim financial statements, accounts receivable - financing activities as on June 30, 2023 include investment plots of land worth JD 3,747,147 that are not registered in the name of the company, but are registered in the name of borrowers & persons under agreements and in the name of related party. ### 3- Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements and the application of accounting policies require the company's management to make estimates and judgments that affect the amounts of financial assets and liabilities and to disclose potential liabilities, and these estimates and judgments affect revenues, expenses and provisions, as well as changes in fair value that appear within equity, and in particular requires the The company's management issues important judgments and judgments to estimate the amounts and times of future cash flows. The mentioned estimates are necessarily based on multiple assumptions and factors that have varying degrees of estimation and uncertainty, and that the actual results may differ from the estimates as a result of changes resulting from the conditions and circumstances of those estimates in the future.

The company's management believes that the estimates of the financial statements are reasonable and detailed as follows: The company records allowances for expected credit losses for all Murabaha financing instruments and debt financial assets that are not held at fair value through the income statement, all of which are referred to (financial instruments). The fiscal year is charged with its income tax expense in accordance with the regulations and laws. The management periodically re-estimates the useful lives of tangible assets for the purposes of calculating annual depreciations depending on the general condition of those assets and estimates of the expected useful lives in the future, and the impairment loss (if any) is taken into the statement of comprehensive income.

A provision is made for cases filed against the university based on a legal study prepared by the company's lawyer, according to which potential risks are identified in the future, and those studies are reviewed periodically. The management periodically reviews the financial assets that appear at cost to estimate any impairment in their value, and this impairment is taken into the statement of comprehensive income for the period.
